THE REV. DR. WASSON RESIGNS TO FIGHT PROHIBITION.

Riverhead Rector's Outspoken Letter View of "Temperance" Legislation - The Hishop Declines to Discuss It.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., May 16 .- The Rev. Dr. William A. Wasson, has tendered his resignation as rector of Grace Episcopal Church of this place to take effect on September 1. He gives as his reason for resigning that he desires more time to lecture and write against prohibition.

The Rev. Dr. Wasson is a brother of the Rev. James R. Wasson, who was for several years connected with St. Thomas's Episcopal Church of New York city. He has been pastor of Grace Church for eight years. Before coming to Riverhead he was pastor of Grace Episcopal Church of Brooklyn.

For the last five years Dr. Wasson has taken an active part in the license eampaign. He has written and lectured much in advocating license-in fact has become a national figure because of his opposition to prohibition. He has lectured in various parts of the United States, and because he has so openly advocated license he has been rebuked and ridiculed in local pulpits and by church and temperance people all over the country.

Although his activity in the defence of license has been distasteful to his parishioners Dr. Wasson is resigning of his farm at Mattituck, and after his retirement from the pastorate of Grace Church he intends to spend most of his time on the farm when not lecturing.

The Rev. Mr. Wasson's letter to the Bishop is as follows;

Bishop of Long Island: Mr Dear Bishop: I hereby tender you

tions that are determining my course—that I may serve the Church more effectually. I see an ampler opportunity than a local pastorate can afford of preaching the Court Refuses Permission to File a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Washington, May 16. - The application of Charles W. Morse, formerly president of the National Bank of North America of New York, for permission to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to secure his release from the Atlanta penitentiary under sentence of fifteen years for missapplying the funds of the bank was to-day denied by the Supreme

BRONX GAMBLERS RAIDED OVER POLICE CAPTAIN'S HEAD.

Inspector's Men Take Twelve Prisoners but Can't Find the Cashier Klondike and Poolroom Outfits Seized-Police Think a Politician the Backer.

Inspector Flood and some of Inspector Russell's men raided a poolroom at 2596 Third avenue, The Bronx, with axes yesterday afternoon and took twelve prisoners. The man who is supposed to have conducted the place has had political affiliations which are believed to have given him immunity up to now. It is the first raid of the sort that The Bronx has known in a good while. It was made over the head of Capt. Naughton of the Alexander avenue police station, in whose precinct the house did business.

For two weeks Detectives Dungate and Donnally of Inspector Russell's staff had been going to the house looking for evidence. They played the games with the rest, but they weren't able to find out who the man was who received the money placed on the horses. He kept himself hidden in a cashier's cage, the window of which was screened with a green shade. Yesterday morning Magistrate Steinert issued warrants in the Tombs police court for the arrest of the inmates of the house. Dungate and Donnally went up as usual and played until the rest of the police arrived, led by Inspector Flood and Lieut, Daniel Costigan. Ten other policemen were in the party.

Inspector Flood and his men didn't find a watcher on the stairs. The door was looked, and when the inspector called for admittance there was a fuss inside. Dungate and Donnally told the players that the game was up. Lieut. Costigan chopped his way through the door and let in the police.

Three men were in one corner of the room opposite to where the cashier's box stood. They were busy at a Klondike cloth in the middle of which was a
